INDUSTRIAL FUND DIRECTORS TO BE NAMED AT BIG MEETING

Subscribers Called to Gather Tomorrow Night to Perfect Organization

$80,200 NOW TOTAL AMOUNT SUBSCRIBED

Future Soliciting Is to Be Done By Individual Committee Members

John G. Ryan, night officer, voluntarily contributed $100 last night to the Industrial Expansion fund, bringing the total up to $80,200.

The committees which have been engaged in soliciting for the fund closed their campaign yesterday, and future work will be done by the individual members of the committees. The approach of Christmas has made it impossible for the business men to devote more time to the campaign.

There is every probability that the fund will reach the $100,000 mark set, but it will not be completed as soon as it would have been done had the committees continued their efforts.

Organization will be effected at a meeting of subscribers called for tomorrow night at the city council chambers to elect seven subscribers to carry out the organization plans and act as directors. The fund will always be kept open, and new business men and residents will be given an opportunity to subscribe as they become identified with the city.

The meeting tomorrow night will be a very important one and every subscriber should make it a point to attend and express his preference for the man who will handle the organization and have final say in the matter of rendering assistance to factories to be located within the city.

There will not be a pre-arranged program—control will be absolutely in the hands of the subscribers.

UPHOLD CALIF. LAND LAW, IS WOOLWINE'S PLEA AT WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.—Cases testing the validity of California's law requiring examination and licensing of "drugless healers," but exempting Christian Scientists and other "prayer practitioners" were argued before the Supreme Court.

P. L. Crane and Mrs. Kate P. McNaughton of Los Angeles, so-called "drugless practitioners" brought the suits attacking the laws as unconstitutional.

For the plaintiffs, Tom L. Johnson contended that the laws discriminate in favor of "prayer practitioners."

Deputy Attorney General Clark and District Attorney Woolwine of Los Angeles told the court that the laws are a reasonable exercise of State police powers to protect California citizenship against medical treatment by persons without medical knowledge. They also urged dismissal of the suits on the ground that Crane and Mrs. McNaughton have not applied for licenses.

VILLA'S FORMER WIFE EXECUTED IN MEXICO

EL PASO, Dec. 14.—Mrs. Juana Villa, former wife of the Mexican bandit chief, and a Mexican woman named Oaxaca have been shot to death by a firing squad in Mexico City, as Villa sympathizers, according to reports of refugees reaching the border from Chihuahua City.

According to the refugees, Senora Oaxaca ran a rooming house in Chihuahua City, where Mrs. Villa was a guest. Many Villistas also had rooms at this house, it is said, during Villa's occupancy of the state capital. After the bandit evacuated the two women were arrested, taken to Mexico City and executed.

Girl Escapes Death in Terrific Battle With Angry Bulldog

Infuriated Animal Inflicts Severe Injury On High School Maid

Miss Blossom Ward had a narrow escape from being killed by a bulldog owned by Miss Vina Peterson of 915 Bush street, Tuesday afternoon after school. As it is she was badly bitten on one foot, one arm and three fingers and is suffering from shock, although able to attend her duties at high school.

Miss Ward is very fond of the dog and often goes to the Peterson home to play with him. She and a friend went on Tuesday and the dog jumped upon her and tore her dress. She called to Mrs. Dora Peterson, mother of the owner, to call him off and Mrs. Peterson struck the animal with a stick, which angered him and a terrific fight began.

The girl was thrown to the floor and in the struggle her shoe was torn off and several severe wounds suffered in her foot. The dog also bit her arm and fingers before he could be dragged away.

The injured girl was taken to a physician and no serious effects are anticipated. Miss Peterson wished to kill her pet, but Mr. and Mrs. Ward would not permit it, as they felt that the animal was not to blame.

The Wards reside at 619 Hickey street.

Literacy Test Clause Is Attached to Measure As Voted For

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.—The Senate today passed the Immigration bill with the literacy test attached.

U. S. TO START AERO MAIL LINE BETWEEN NEW YORK, CHICAGO

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.—It was today announced that the post office is ready to inaugurate an aerial mail service between New York and Chicago and that all is ready except the purchase of machines.

The Post Office Department says that such an aerial mail service is entirely practicable. It says that the recent flights of Carlstrom and Ruth Law prove that there can be made an average of eight hours for the trip.

The department plans to include the establishment of emergency stations every twenty-two miles, each to have powerful lights, two landing stations and one relay station.

The planes would carry from 500 to 1000 pounds of mail.

400 MILLION POUNDS CREDIT IS ASKED IN HOUSE OF COMMONS

LONDON, Dec. 14.—A vote of four hundred million pounds credit was today moved in Commons by Bonar Law. He said that the daily expenditure in the war is more than $27,000,000.

FOOD, LABOR MINISTER BE CREATED BY BONAR LAW, ANNOUNCED

LONDON, Dec. 14.—Bonar Law today announced that the new government intends to create a minister of food and labor.

BAKERSFIELD WOMAN'S MURDERER IS KILLED

BAKERSFIELD, Dec. 14.—E. N. Otolo, sought for the murder of Mrs. D. Benidini, today was killed by the police in one sage brush east of town, where the man had hidden all night. He tried to shoot the officers, but they shot first.

An argument over a board bill is supposed to have led to the tragedy.

NATIONWIDE 'DRY' BILL IS FAVORABLY REPORTED IN HOUSE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.—The house judiciary committee today reported favorably on the bill for nationwide prohibition and reported the woman's suffrage bill without recommendation. It also reported favorably on the nationwide food probe bill.

THOUSANDS DIE SO. CALIF. AUTO HORROR DEATHS CLUB TO OPEN BRANCH OFFICE IN SANTA ANA

Frightful Conditions Bared By Yankee Mining Men In Sworn Statement

EL PASO, Dec. 14.—Villistas again have captured Santa Rosa, south of Chihuahua City, according to advices to federal agents. Skirmishing continues along the railroad near Ortiz, thirty miles south of Chihuahua City, where the railroad has been cut. It is believed that the main band of Villistas is massed west of Chihuahua City and that the others are skirmishers.

EL PASO, Dec. 14.—Department agents today forwarded to Secretary Lansing affidavits by an American mining man describing terrible conditions in Central Mexico as the result of continuous revolutions and starvation. The mining man says that the city of Guanajuato has been reduced from 40,000 to 15,000 by disease and starvation and that the people are unable to get clothes, while the troops pillage, loot and commit atrocities.

Seventy Die Daily

Speaking of Guanajuato, the report says:

"In the past four months the death rate from starvation and disease has been more than seventy daily. I have seen women begging in the streets and die from lack of food. I have counted ten dead in an hour carried past my residence on stretchers. I saw men executed for stealing a blanket. I saw merchants shot for refusal to accept flat currency. Sanitary conditions there are beyond description. Peons, unable to obtain clothes, wear grass and corn sheaves tied about their bodies with cord. Nuns in a convent were taken by government soldiers to a fate worse than death. The wonderful church at Guanajuato has been converted into a bull-ring and dance hall by looting."

Seize Relief Supplies

The sworn statement of the mining man charged that government troops appropriated twenty-five carloads of corn which the Red Cross had sent to the sufferers.

SIMMS IS ACCREDITED U. P. REPRESENTATIVE AT BRITISH WAR BASE

LONDON, Dec. 14.—William Phillip Simms, Paris manager of the United Press, today was accorded permanent credentials to represent the United Press exclusively at the British headquarters in France. He is the first neutral correspondent to be so accredited to represent a single agency.

COLLEGE STUDENTS NOT ALLOWED TO MIX IN TOO MANY OUTSIDE ACTIVITIES

No college student at the University of Southern California is to be allowed to indulge in so many "student activities" that they neglect the classroom work which is the chief reason for being in college at all. The Associated Women Students recently adopted a plan whereby each student activity is rated at a definite number of "points" and no girl is allowed to take on her shoulders more than a certain definite number of these "points."

A similar system is being worked out for the men. Thus, if you are being worked out for the basketball team, and sing in the college glee club, those activities will probably use up your total number of twelve "points" a year, and you must sigh in vain for the privilege of being class president or athletic manager. The college authorities find that this plan works out to great advantage.

MINER WHO SHOT HIS PARTNER IS CAUGHT

BAKERSFIELD, Dec. 14.—Duncan Ferguson was shot by Frank Corcoran, his partner, when he refused to leave the claim he had been working on near Havilah, near Tehachapi. Corcoran then reported the affair and asked men to go to the aid of Mr. Ferguson, a well-known mining man here. He is also reported to have called the sheriff by long distance, but later got "cold feet" and made his escape.

He has been caught at Bakersfield and is being brought to Bakersfield. Medical aid was summoned from here, but Mr. Ferguson was shot below the heart and his condition is considered critical. An unusual feature of the case is that Deputy Coroner Flickinger and Dr. Brown went to the scene together, it being uncertain which one will be needed when they arrive there.

Consider Workers' Welfare Corporations Taking Steps New Policies Are Discussed

JULIUS ROSENWALD
F. C. HENDERSCHOTT

Big Employers Are Considering Reforms In Dealing With Employees

Here are five of the managers and representatives of great industrial corporations who met the other day in an attempt to formulate a new policy for dealing with employees. A. F. Porter represented the Shredded Wheat Company; Julius Rosenwald was there as the controlling factor in the great mail order house of Sears, Roebuck and Company; Charles H. Hulburd represented the Elgin National Watch Company; F. C. Henderschott spoke for the New York Edison Company, perhaps the largest Edison lighting company; and Louis A. Coolidge represented the United Shoe Machinery Company.

Mr. Henderschott said the time had come for all great corporations to have a vice president whose sole work would be to look after the welfare of employees.

VIENNA WIRES TELL CABINET RESIGNATION

AMSTERDAM, Dec. 14.—The resignation of the Austrian cabinet was today announced by Vienna dispatches. Alexander Spitzmueller is to attempt to form the new ministry. The present ministry was formed November 1.

ENTENTE SHOULD BE FIRST WITH TERMS, BRITISH SENTIMENT

LONDON, Dec. 14.—Bonar Law today partly answered the German peace proposals by quoting the statement of former Premier Asquith:

"There must be adequate reparation for the past and adequate security for the future."

He prefaced this with the declaration that the peace proposals had not yet been received and until then the ministry of the new administration could not discuss them. He also asked Commons members to refrain from discussing the proposals.

Sentiment has increased in favor of including in England's answer to the German proposals a clear, explicit definition of the allies' basis of terms. It is certain that the answer will be a rejection of the proposal now, but many quarters feel that the allies should meet German strategy in sending a note by which the allies would be first to make known definite demands and conclusions.

HINDENBURG GOES AHEAD WITH WINTER PLANS

BY CARL W. ACKERMAN
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

BERLIN, Dec. 14.—Despite Germany's peace proposals, Hindenburg's declaration that there will be no rest this winter, still stands. Military authority today repeated this quotation, commenting on the fact that Germany had weighed carefully the peace question before announcing her offer, knowing that England did not desire

20 PERILED AS U. S. DIVER HITS ROCKS; CRAFT ROLLS ABOUT IN BREAKERS

Submarine H3 Goes Aground Outside Humboldt Bay, Near Eureka

ENGINE TROUBLE CAUSE OF ACCIDENT, BELIEF

Life Savers' Work Hampered By Tossing About Of Endangered Vessel

MARE ISLAND, Dec. 14.—Arrangements are being made to rush navy tugs to Eureka to relieve the submarine H-3 if she is not brought safely from the reef this afternoon.

EUREKA, Dec. 14.—The submarine H-3 today ran aground just outside Humboldt Bay. There is fear for the safety of the officers and crew.

Apparently the vessel grounded during a fog.

The craft is now being tossed about by breakers.

Life savers are unable to get close enough to throw a line aboard.

Owing to her continued rolling, it is feared the vessel's superstructure will break up.

It is also feared that owing to the heavy buffeting the men aboard the submarine would be unable to help themselves if a line should be shot over the submarine.

Late this afternoon life savers got a line across.

The fact that it was not taken in indicates that the men were injured. The fact that the submarine had engine trouble before leaving Astoria Tuesday caused the belief that the engine may have gone "dead," causing the vessel to drift into the rocks.

The vessel normally carried two officers and eighteen men. Hope is expressed that the vessel will be washed ashore and left by the flood tide. All possible efforts are being made to reach the distressed vessel.

SLINGSBY BABY LOSES FIGHT FOR ESTATE BY LONDON COURT RULING

LONDON, Dec. 14.—The House of Lords today dismissed the appeal of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. R. Slingsby of San Francisco, who sought the estate of the late Rev. Slingsby, for "Teddy," their supposed son. The court held Teddy to be a "foundling" and not the Slingsbys' legitimate son.

In 1915 the child was established as the legal heir to the Slingsby estate by probate and divorce. The two younger brothers of Slingsby held that he was the son of a San Francisco school girl and adopted so that he might inherit a Yorkshire estate.

U. S. PAYS EMPLOYEES $100 PER YEAR LESS THAN IN 1853, SHOWN

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.—The United States government now pays its employees $100 less a year than it did 62 years ago, Ethelbert Stewart, chief clerk of the Bureau of Labor Statistics of the Department of Labor, an authority upon the subject, declared today.

This decrease comes at a time when the cost of living has soared two-fold and three-fold from the levels of 1854.

The salary scale of government clerks was fixed by act of 1853. Prior to this there had been no regular gradation in pay for employees. A certain number could get, for instance, $819 per annum, another $837, others $869.50 and so on. The work of including so many scattering items in the appropriations bill vexed the committee who decided in that year to put all of these in a lump appropriation at $840. This is an example of the plan that was followed in the fixing of the rates of governmental pay to its employees.

These classes have not changed since that day save by the creation of lower grades of pay. There were no $720, $660, or $540 per annum employees of the government at that date, as there are now.

In 1854 no clerk listed as such got under $1,200 a year. Now clerks are listed at $840.

There are higher positions today than there were in 1871 but these are comparatively few and are occupied mostly by experts. The chief increase in the number of government employees in the District is shown by the statistics to have been in the lower grades of the service.

GRAVATH MAY BE VERNON TIGER MANAGER

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 14.—(Special to the Register).—In an interview this afternoon Maier, owner of the Vernon team, said that he is not considering Cravath for manager, and will not because Patterson has a two-year contract with Vernon, and should the club be sold that two-year contract would go with the club. Maier said that as yet he has made no bid for Cravath.

If Tom Darmody is successful in his bid for the Vernon ball club, Gavy Cravath will be identified with the team, either as manager or as captain. Such was the declaration of Victor Walker, local sporting goods man, this morning, when shown a dispatch from New York stating that Patrick Moran, manager of the Phillies, will permit the home run king to go to the Pacific Coast League, where he has an offer to manage a team. Permission will be given by Moran, the dispatch said, providing another right fielder can be secured.

Three teams on the coast present possible openings for Cravath—Los Angeles, Vernon and Salt Lake. The possibility of Cravath getting a managerial berth with the Utah club is practically eliminated, the Salt Lake directors being, it is stated, satisfied with the present manager. There remain, then, Los Angeles and Vernon.

Walker Changes Mind
When the reports of the Chance-Cub deal first began going the rounds a week or so ago, Walker inclined to the opinion that it would be Cravath that would step into the Peerless Leader's shoes as manager of the Angels. Now, however, as the Chance-Cub negotiations seem to be hanging fire, Walker has, he states, grounds for the belief that Cravath will be with the Vernon Tigers, provided that Darmody becomes the purchaser of the club.

Eddie Maier, present owner of the Tigers, is conferring with Darmody this afternoon and evening. Darmody is but one of several who are reported to be angling for the ownership of the Tigers.

It is known that Darmody has been in conference with a "mysterious stranger" round about Los Angeles during the past few days. Walker, who is one of Cravath's best friends, states that he has noticed that the Philly slugger has been unusually busy lately. Gavy is "buzzing around" at a great rate.

Then too, when Walker immediately following the breaking loose of the Chance-Cub reports, showed Cravath the story in the Register to the effect that it would probably be Cravath who would succeed Chance as Angel manager, if the latter went to Chicago, Cravath said:

"You may not be so terribly far off as you might think."

All signs point to this: that the Santa Ana and Laguna Beach friends of Gavy will have a chance to see him playing with the Vernon Tigers during the coming season.

PALATABLE SANDWICH MADE OF GRASSHOPPERS

SANDUSKY, Ohio, Dec. 12.—L. Chester Bliss, assistant curator of the Sandusky high school museum, had a grasshopper sandwich for luncheon the other day. He caught the hoppers, removed their heads and wings, toasted them over a slow fire, cut them in half and peppered them, and placed them between two thin slices of bread.

"The grasshoppers turned red like lobsters," he said. "They had a nutty flavor and I enjoyed them very much."

MARNE BATTLE SCENE SACRED FOREST, PLAN

BY HENRY WOOD
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

VERDUN, France, Nov. 18 (by mail).—With the close of the war the entire line of trenches in France, extending from Alsace to the Belgian border, may be converted into a sort of national Sacred Forest, as a permanent tribute to the memory of the French "poilus" who died there defending their national soil.

A proposition to this effect has just been prepared by the General Council of the Department of the Meuse and will be submitted to the French government. The plan is to buy the battle ground from the farmers. Should this plan be finally accepted, future generations not only of France but of the entire world, would always have the opportunity of visiting the line of trenches over 600 kilometers in length on which the French threw back the tide of German invasion at the battle of the Marne and which till the end of the war will always remain the basis of France's military effort to rid her soil entirely of the enemy.

The immediate land through which these long lines of trenches run, together with the battle fields of the Somme, of Artois and of Champagne will, it is believed, never again be rendered cultivable. Aside from the deep trenches and boyaus, the ground has been pitted with shell holes to a depth varying from a few to fifteen feet, and all the upper strata of soil on which fertility depends so completely wiped out, that little if any use could ever be made of the ground for agricultural purposes for years to come.

MINES SCHOOL MEN LEARN RESCUE WORK

DENVER, Dec. 13.—They look like soldiers coming from the trenches where gas bombs have been falling in numbers. Masks, goggles and curious tanks on their backs add to the impression. But theirs is a mission of peace—their motto is "safety first."

They are students at the State School of Mines, Golden, Colo., members of the school's new department of "Safety and efficiency, engineering," the first school department of its kind to be established in the United States.

The squad is under the tutelage of J. C. Roberts, who, was for many years in charge of the government's mine-rescue car and he knows the horrors of the mine accident as well perhaps as any man in the country.

At the School of Mines he is turning out men equipped to organize the miners of the world into safety-first squads that will decrease the annual list of victims of mine accidents.

Any afternoon, at Golden, in the foothills, the safety class may be seen in the darkness of a gas-filled hole, on a mission of rescue while a efficiency squad wait at the mouth with bandages and pulmotors and knowledge of first aid methods. All are doing practical work in rescuing.

GIRLS TAKING UP LAW STUDY

University of Southern California Has Good Records To Report

At the University of Southern California is an increase in the number of girl students in the College of Law. Lawyers predominate in numbers in both branches of the national legislature, and the number of girl students who are training themselves to battle with the intricacies of the legal profession at the University at such a startling rate that soon there will be a good sized company of them practicing in this part of the state. The male students have nicknamed the women "Portias" in memory of Shakespeare's famous woman lawyer in "The Merchant of Venice" whose sole appearance in the court room gave birth to the famous speech, "The quality of mercy is not strained."

The authorities at the College of Law have found it necessary to set aside a special study room for the women in which they can penetrate the mysteries of Blackstone's logic to their hearts' content.

Probably the women students of law are spurred on by the successful records of two of their recent companions. Miss Orfa Jean Shontz, who graduated not so long ago from the College of Law, was recently made referee of a department of the Juvenile Court in Los Angeles, the first woman in the world to hold such a position. As a consequence, magazines and newspapers from one end of the country to the other have carried Miss Shontz's name and picture. Miss Lita Belle Hibben, also a recent graduate and an instructor in the College of Law in the University, has been appointed a deputy in the office of the district attorney for Los Angeles County, and is the first woman in California to hold such a position. Miss Mae D. Lashley, another recent graduate, is now secretary to Judge James D. Rives, of the Probate Court.

ALDERMEN REBUKED BY MAYOR OF NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Dec. 14.—Mayor Mitchell rebuked the Board of Aldermen here in vetoing its objection to salary increases of certain city employees, amounting to $120,420, in the city's budget for 1917, which totals $211,115,016.

The mayor said that the increases are not only merited, but necessary, because of the high cost of living. The board made no objection to an increase in the salaries of some of the other city employees.

DEEDS, NOT WORDS

Santa Ana People Have Absolute Proof of Deeds at Home

It's not words but deeds that prove true merit.

The deeds of Doan's Kidney Pills, for Santa Ana kidney sufferers, have made their local reputation.

Proof lies in the testimony of Santa Ana people.

J. W. Winslow, grocer, 603 E. Washington avenue, Santa Ana, says: "I suffered from pains in my back and in the morning I had lameness and soreness in the small of my back, in fact, I ached all over. The action of my kidneys was irregular also. I had dizzy spells and everything appeared black before my eyes. I read about Doan's Kidney Pills and used them. They cured my back and regulated the action of my kidneys."

NEW ROSE IS BRED WORTH $15,000

HARRISBURG, Pa., Dec. 12.—Search is being made for a name for a new rose developed by John C. Cook, aged 82, of Baltimore, and brought here to be photographed by J. Horace McFarland, editor of the American Rose Annual.

Cook values the rose at $15,000. Specimens have a diameter of more than five inches. The color is pink. McFarland speaks of the rose as a sort of "glorified La France."

Experts say the Cook rose ranks with any rose produced in America and may stand ahead of all.

ASTRONOMY HUMANIZED

"The proper study of mankind is man," wrote Pope. And that statement was the keynote of all the elder "cultural" education. A gentleman was supposed to be educated in the "Humanities" and in those alone—meaning Latin, Greek, literature, Philosophy—anything which dealt with mankind, kept the hands and collar clean and ignored Science. It is not so long since surgery was left wholly to the barber.

Slowly the attitude changes. Bacon urged the experimental method of finding out things. Long after him came Darwin, Huxley, Wallace and their train, applying that method to the bodies and souls of men. Came Virchow, Pasteur, and their followers, connecting physiology and chemistry with the study of mankind.

Mathematics and astronomy still held themselves sternly aloof. Still rather looked down upon by the cultural advocates, their exponents held themselves in a caste above the students of lazy and easy subjects.

Finally it remained for a man who began life as artist and student of Oriental customs to turn his artistic and sociologic mind to the study of astronomy. The man was Percival Lowell, recently deceased, who devoted most of his life and his private fortune to the study of the habitancy of Mars.

Schiaparelli before him had discovered the canals, with their implication of human labor, but Lowell went much further. Continuous study of all the conditions convinced him of the presence of life upon that nearest planet. The result was that people everywhere began to take interest in the subject. Scientists laughed—they always have! So did the populace jeer—as usual, at any new idea. But Lowell studied on, believing daily more firmly in his theory.

One writer says: "His announcements did more to popularize the study of astronomy than all the college course could have done in a hundred years." From being an abstract, abstruse science, of no direct appeal, astronomy through him caught up its connection with human life.

The proper study of mankind is man. But slowly appears the truth that there is nothing in all the vast universe which is apart from man. Nature, organic or inorganic, in its every aspect, is, in fact, a "Humanity."

JUST ONE ANSWER

A paper misnamed "Enlightenment" which is being circulated among laboring men by the liquor interests, asserts that the Methodist Church at its recent general conference refused to recognize union labor in its publishing plants.

Once upon a time we heard one colored fellow propound the following riddle to another: "Sam," he said, "Once dar wuz three men cast away on a desert island. One didn't hab no arms; one didn't hab no legs; and one didn't hab no cloes on. De man dat didn't hab no arms picked up a gun and shot a bu'd; de one dat didn't hab no legs ran and picked up de bu'd and de one dat didn't hab no cloes on put de bu'd in his pocket. Now what am dat riddle?"

"I give it up," said Sam.
"Hit's a lie, dat's what it is. Haw, haw haw!"

And this is the only answer "Enlightenment" needs for its enlightenment.

With Malice Toward None

By Henry James

Peace
Reading that the warring nations are anxious for peace, one naturally wonders how many people are taken in by such stuff. The pretense is pretty coarse work.

If a nation wants peace an excellent way to get it is to stop fighting. If it is in territory where it has neither legal nor moral right to be, it is pining for peace, why doesn't it seek its own territory? Then it might have peace to burn, as the saying is.

Probably no nation goes to war for the mere purpose of finding itself many billions, and fertilizing alien soil with the blood of its own best. At any stage of the game it yearns for peace, but it desires to stipulate the dips, spurs and angles of the same, and it wants to be the sole boss of the sweetly peaceful state it proposes to establish.

Of course people are getting accustomed to bogus war news, but the twaddle of diplomacy gets onto their nerves.

Oh Shaw
If any civilized nation today were to become modest enough to see itself as it is, it would utter a shriek of horror, and run violently down a steep place into the sea.—G. B. Shaw.

And speaking of this modesty, dear Shaw,
If in a mirror true, yourself you saw,
With pen in hand insulting all your race,
A thousand paltry hatreds on your face;
And should you study there your phiz awhile,
Its lip asseer, and tongue adrip with gile,
You'd drop that dreadful glass, and give a yell.
You'd think you'd met some creature straight from—well
I was so drilled 'gainst naughty words, in youth
Here I must hint, but can't tell all the truth.

The Little Fellow
Belgium got into the muss, and was trampled underfoot.
Poland was snatched from one master, and has another.
Roumania was coaxed in under promise of protection, and crushed.
Greece wanted to be neutral and was treated as the enemy of all.
And the blessed powers now engaged in strangling civilization would treat every nation similarly if they could.

Getting Old
Carnegie is eighty-one, and probably melancholy.
Before him is the dreamy prospect of continuing rich to the end.

Trifles
There's no use talking, a rich man can't win sympathy by having appendicitis.

It is said there is collusion in food-stuffs. There's something in them that makes them come high.
That 40-cent diet couldn't be obtained at any such price unless by stealing it, which would have impaired the value of the experiment.

Nobody will work so hard as an I. W. W. when his purpose is to avoid working.

After taking a glance at civilization Amundsen skips out for the North Pole to be gone four years, and nobody blames him.

There are eggs classified commercially as "rots" and "spots" and egg dealers whom these terms fit admirably.

Real Sport
Recently two women had a fistic encounter, and the one that got licked drew a court verdict of $329.

The affair was said to have been quite interesting, and yet it was not conducted according to approved rules. Not only was there scratching and hair-pulling, but the loser took the purse.

Movie Pictures
Professions of belief that there has been a reaction against movie pictures, are heard occasionally.

So far as this is true, it is the fault of producers. The best elements of life spectacles will survive, and nobody needs care if the trash fades from mortal ken. There is so much trash that the resultant gap would be a big hole.

Personally my grudge against the movies is the absurdity of the alleged salaries. Some people really believe these stories, and the effect is to cause them to be discontented and to desire to rush into the business.

They do not get in, of course, unless in some sort fitted, but they lose good jobs while loafing around hopeful and expectant.

"Props" greeted me with a smile that indicated the world was treating him well. "When you come to figer it out," confided he, "de life uv a prop boy ain't so bad after all. We have lots uv fun, and den lookit all de big stars we meet. People always talk about dese stars bein' up-stage. Well, dat might be true in some places, but it ain't so in our studio. Lookit 'Dusty' Farnum. He just comes in a few minutes ago and hollers: 'Hello, Props! How's de kid?' He's dere wid de smile all de time, and when he's got notin' special to do he comes around and tells us stories, and believe me, boy, dat guy kin spile out de funny chin goods. He likes to kid wid de bunch, and if we kid him back he takes it wid a grin. He don't get sore, like a lot of guys would."

"Den dere's Kathryn Williams. Say, kid, she's some gal! Everybody is in love wid her. When she comes in every morning she just spills sunshine all over de place. She usually has a bunch of flowers from her garden and hands dem around. Vivian Martin, Lenore Ulrich, Collin Chase—de whole bunch is de same. Always smilin' and—democratic, dat's it—democratic. You know—dey mingle wid de bunch."

"It's jes like a big family at our studio; but, believe me, it wouldn't be such a happy family if it wuz not for us props bein' on de job all de time. De other day we were taking a scene for Lenore Ulrich's new pitcher, 'The Road to Love.' Lenore wuz to rush up to a door wot wuz locked and try to push de door in. When de scene was bein' taken some one forgot to lock de door. I just noticed dis in time an' ran up an' braced it from de outside. It wuz a long scene and wuz going great—better dan any of de rehearsals—if I hadn't been on de job believe me, one grand big scene would have been spoiled 'cause she'd a gone through dat door on de first push. It took all me strengt to hold it!"

"Wot gits me goat do is when de director tells you to do sometin and don't tell you enough. Yesterday I gets a note from one of de directors out on location which sez: 'Bring over de shells immediately.' I didn't know if dey wanted, sea-shells, gun-shells or oyster shells. Well I had 't do sometin and do sometin quick. Dat note was meant for one of de odder prop boys but I wuz de only one here, so I had to git busy. I beats it around to de fish-man and buys every kind uv a shell I could see, den I goes to a sporting-goods shop and buys up all kinds uv gun shells. Wid a basket full of junk I beats it to de location and when I sits dere everybody gives me de ha ha. Dey wanted de fish-shells awright but de gun shells came in handy too." Here a prop for "Props" resounded and immediately my friend disappeared after a hasty promise to give further particulars on de morrow.

Petroleum Industry Shows a Big Growth

In the Last Year Orange County Has Produced No Less Than 13,390,000 Barrels of Oil

The petroleum industry of Orange county at the close of the year 1916 presents some facts and figures that are stupendous. The Orange county old fields have made advances that are undoubtedly unparalleled by any other field in the state in consideration of the available and proven oil territory and the high prices of oil well drilling equipment for the past year.

During the year 1915 Orange County produced 12,680,000 barrels of crude oil. Carefully computed figures for the year 1916 places the production at 13,390,625 barrels. In round numbers the production of the field was increased over 710,000 barrels, or a little better than two-thirds of a million barrels. During 1915 the average daily production of the field was 35,354 barrels. The 1916 production records show a daily average production of 36,459 barrels. Approximately the daily average amount of oil produced shows a gain of close to 3,000 barrels over the previous year.

Development work throughout the field has increased remarkably over that of last year. This fact is worthy of consideration when it is a well-known fact that the average cost of oil well drilling equipment supplies and tools have advanced 50 per cent over the price paid during 1915. During the year 1915 the average number of wells drilled was 51. The close of the present year boosts the figure to 60 wells. The above figures are mostly averages. The average number of wells drilling each month for the past year showing an increase of 20 per cent certainly speaks well for the rapid growth of the Brea-Fullerton-Whittier field.

Drilling Successful
Drilling operations have been very successful during the past year, as the records will show. The year 1915 saw 68 wells completed and added to the list of producing wells. A careful study of the field convinces the writer that there will be an equal number of wells completed and very probably that even more wells will be finished this year than last. Available figures assure the completion of an equal number, and a number of companies have wells that are so nearly finished and will be finished before the end of the year that it is certainly not last year's record, as good as it was, will be broken.

At the close of 1915 the number of producing wells in the county was 535. 1916 development work has added 60 new producing wells to the list, bringing the number up to 655 wells.

Orange County now has 3,395 acres of proven oil land, all of which is considered good. Of course the field varies as to quality and quantity, but taken as a whole the amount of oil produced, the gravity of the product and the average amount made by the wells producing are factors that make the total field as valuable as any in the state. Considerable interest is being manifested in the work of the Copa De Ora and Gold Seal Oil Companies in Chino Canyon, north of Brea, also the development work recently started by the Standard Oil Company in the Baldwin Hills, at Montebello. The finding of oil in commercial quantities in either of these two localities will increase the acreage of proven oil territory very materially; almost doubling it.

Army of Men
The oil industry of the county gives steady employment to over 2,000 men at a wage that is good. The big companies are giving their men the best of treatment. A number of developing concerns have instituted the 8-hour day. Some companies are insuring the lives of the employees, others are raising the wages, and one of the biggest concerns in the field is allowing the employees to share in the company's profits.

There are ten big corporations operating in the oil fields and about five smaller companies, making a total of fifteen oil companies developing the resources of the county. These operating companies spend two and three-quarters millions of dollars annually for labor and materials. The Standard Oil Company heads the list.

expending a million and a quarter dollars a year, and the Union is second, distributing three-quarters of a million yearly for labor and oil well supplies and equipment. The Amalgamated and Associated companies' figures will run close to a half million and so on down the line, no company in the field, unless it be a wild-cat concern, spending less than a hundred thousand a year.

The price of crude oil during the year 1915, as compared to that of the year just closing, presents some very encouraging factors to the oil operators themselves and to those contemplating entering the business. During 1915 the highest price paid for 18 gravity oil was 45 cents a barrel. The same gravity oil is quoted today at 74 cents a barrel. Twenty-six gravity oil, that sold for 47 1/2 cents a barrel is now bringing $2 a barrel. Thirty-one gravity oil selling for 62 cents a barrel in 1915, is now quoted at 87 cents a barrel. The price of gasoline has stood up pretty well throughout the year. To some the price seems unusually high, and the producers have been criticised severely. However, the price of gasoline has been in keeping with the constant and ever-increasing demand, coupled with the increased cost of producing and refining. The value of the crude oil produced during the year is $6,617,000.

The Refineries
In connection with the oil business the Orange county field includes some of the best equipped refineries in the state, to say nothing of the valuable and efficient casinghead gas-oil plants. The Union Oil Company's refinery at Stewart Station is a model for the industry. The Brea and Pacific Gasoline Companies' plants are the best that money and modern mechanical skill will produce, for the manufacture of gasoline from casinghead gas. The local field is unique in having a plant for the making of gasoline from the casinghead gas by the absorption method. The National Products Absorption Plant on the Graham-Loftus is the only plant of its kind in the west.

Judging from the efforts put forth by the operating companies in the Brea-Fullerton-Whittier field during the past year and taking into consideration the amount of new work planned for the coming year, the oil industry of Orange county has a great future ahead. The opening of the new year will see an increased activity in every department of the development and production of petroleum, and Orange county's oil industry will forge ahead to greater achievements in 1917.

Society of First Presbyterian Church Enjoys Interesting Program Yesterday

The regular meeting of the Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary Society of the First Presbyterian church was held in the ladies' parlor yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. E. L. Morrison had charge of the devotionals and brought a message from the Christmas story to the members.

Mrs. I. M. Sproule had charge of the program for the afternoon and Mrs. Ella Parker read a letter from Mrs. Ernestine Thacker of Nogales, Mexico, portraying her work there.

After a sweet solo by Mrs. Margaret Caldwell Genett, Mrs. E. B. Smith spoke about the mountaineers, telling of the work among these people and of the schools in the different states which the Presbyterians are supporting.

The meeting closed when Mrs. A. R. Rowley told the latest news from her daughter, Miss Grace Rowley, who is the society's missionary in China.

Jolly Quilting Bee
Mrs. W. L. Crissman had a delightful all-day quilting bee yesterday at her cosy home on South Birch street. The quilters worked faithfully and their needles flew in accord with the conversation, which lacked neither spice nor wit.

A delectable five-course chicken dinner, with all the accessories, was served at noon. The guests laid aside their needles and did ample justice to the bountiful repast.

The home was beautifully decorated with the Christmas flower, the poinsettia, and after dinner the guests again resumed their needles and were entertained with music by Mrs. Crissman at the piano. The quilt was finished at 3:30 p. m.

Miss Belle Crissman and friend from Los Angeles came in as a surprise to Mrs. Crissman and in time for dinner.

Those enjoying Mrs. Crissman's hospitable hospitality were Meses. Leiser, Halstead, Pendleton, Newman, Ripps and Young, and before departure they gave Mrs. Crissman a rising vote of thanks.

GOOD BOOK REVIEW

Ebell Section Hears Interesting Paper By Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Keech at Meeting

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Keech prepared a most interesting paper on H. G. Wells' novel, "Mr. Britling Sees It Through," which Mr. Keech read before the Book Review Club at the W. B. Bedford home Tuesday evening, December 12.

Not only was the book itself well worth reading, and the Keech's choice of incidents characteristic and to the point, but Mr. Keech's comments on the side were so keen and witty that one could not decide who lent the most charm to the performance, the author or his interpreters.

In the hero of the story, Mr. Britling, H. G. Wells seems to present his own standards and views. Especially is this true of matters regarding the war.

The story opens in the summer of 1914. "The bomb has already been thrown, the shot fired in far away Bosnia, but it was quite characteristic of the state of mind of both Mr. Britling and England that while they were uneasy about the trouble in Ireland, they thought nothing of the possibility of trouble with Germany."

Mr. Britling says, "I used to be an alarmist about Germany, but I have come to feel more and more confidence in the sound common sense of the mass of the German population and in the Emperor, too. He is sometimes a little theatrical, sometimes egotistical, but in his operatic, boldly colored way he means peace. I am convinced he means peace."

"The things that really interested England in those days were boxing and the summer sales. France was completely taken up by the political complications of the enthralling murder trial of Mme. Calliaux and had no attention to give to the report of the army committee that her artillery was short of ammunition, and that her infantry had boots thirty years old."

At first Mr. Britling feels elated by the magnitude of the great war. He says, "Perhaps mankind needs stirring up to save us from our disposition to stultify comfort. You may call this ruin, bankruptcy, but they are doors out of habit and routine. This war is the biggest thing in history, and we are all called on to do our utmost to resist the tremendous attack upon peace and freedom of the world. It may be a tremendous catastrophe in one sense, but in another it is a huge step forward in human life. This is far greater than the French Revolution or the Reformation—and we live in it!"

He had been speaking generally. He had forgotten Hugh, his 17-year-old son, who had volunteered in the reserves at 19 so that he is soon called out. It is a very different matter when it comes to his own son.

Hugh writes home of the men in charge: "One gets a kind of toothache of the mind at the sight of everything done twice as slowly and half as well as need be."

Roeburn says, "What is the good of all this clamoring for a change of government? It is like telling a tramp to get a change of linen. All our public men are second-rate men, but they are doing the best they can and there you are."

Three times this year we have missed victories that seemed certain because of the badness of our staff work. You can't expect men who are habitually easy-going to keep bucked up to a high state of efficiency for any length of time; they hate being prizes, and an Englishman will be any sort of a stupid failure rather than appear a prig."

Some of the conclusions that Mr. Britling gradually comes to regarding Germany are interesting. The tawdry rhetorical German Emperor is receding from the foreground of the picture, and that truer Germany which is thought and system, which is the will to do things thoroughly, is coming to the fore.

It makes no apology for the errors and crimes of the Hohenzollern leadership, but it fights now to save itself from the destruction and division that will be its lot if it accepts defeat too easily. Against it fight three great peoples with as fine a will, but they have neither the unity nor the habitual discipline of Germany. France, from its first reeling month, has risen to a steady splendor of resolution, but England and Russia still waste force, are careless, negligent and uncertain. It is true that carelessness and incapacity have any right to triumph over capacity and foresight. Mr. Britling wonders if the cause of the Allies is all rightness.

Then word comes that Hugh has been killed, and in anguish of soul, Mr. Britling says, "Why did I let him go, my God; how utterly silly; why did I let him go?"

Pleasant Reunion
Mr. and Mrs. Warren Freeman, who have spent the last six months in Dakota and Minnesota, returned last week, accompanied by their cousin, Walter Monroe, and have taken up their residence at 2527 Santiago avenue.

Their friends in the Friendly Circle of the First Methodist Sunday school, of which George Heil is teacher, and of which they have been members for five years, gave them a genuine surprise last evening by going to their residence and giving them a hearty "welcome home." After greetings the regular class business for the month, after which the election of officers took place, resulting as follows:

President, A. J. Lashby; vice president, Mrs. Sharpless; secretary, B. Sharpless; treasurer, Fred Finu; chairman of the Membership committee, Mrs. Freeman.

A delightful hour of sociability followed, during which the committee served appetizing refreshments, all present feeling an uplift in the friendship and comradeship of the Friendly Circle and pleasure at the return of their host and hostess.

Turkey Dinner
Following a membership contest by the business men's Wesley Bible class of the South Methodist Church, the Reds' division last night gave a turkey dinner to the Blues, winners of the contest. It was a splendid dinner, and forty men sat down to it and enjoyed every bit of it.

Messrs. Wright and Todd delighted the company, acting as waiter and waitress, were attired and shaded as "Rastus and Dinah." Supper being over, Messrs. Wright and Olinger, dressed as bandits, faces covered, broke in through the back door, brandished and fired six-shooters, commanding the Reds to stand, successfully robbing them except for one "red."

HANDKERCHIEF GAME WORKED AT YONKERS

YONKERS, Dec. 12—Anthony Barron of 10 Center street was fleeced out of $300 by a swindle known as the handkerchief game. After two strangers made his acquaintance a third ostensibly unknown to them passed and dropped a handkerchief. One of Barron's new acquaintances picked up the handkerchief and partly opened it. There was a roll of bills inside, supposedly all of large denomination.

The swindler got Barron to give them $300 in smaller bills, and after passing him the handkerchief all tied up told him to open it when he got home. The package was found to contain confederate money.

4 ESCAPE HURTS AS AUTO TURNS OVER
BRITISH WAR OFFICE
CUPID BUREAU BUSY

Four young men miraculously escaped injury last night when a big Cadillac car turned over on them at the corner of Main and Chapman streets. Murray Vandermaast received bruises and cuts and was rendered unconscious for half an hour. Dr. C. A. Custer was bruised and Messrs. Lusher and Newman escaped without a single injury.

The young men were returning home from Orange about 10 o'clock. The heavy fog made the paved roads slippery and the car went over on the turn from Chapman to Main street. Vandermaast was driving, and realizing the condition of the road approached the turn at slow speed. The rear wheels skidded. The machine turned over slowly on its side. Vandermaast was caught under the steering post, but got out by himself. How he did it he does not know.

Parties in a machine following, and who were about to pass Vandermaast because he was driving so slow, rendered prompt assistance, bringing the men to their home in this city.

Vandermaast and Dr. Custer had attended a dance in Orange together and the other men in the car were being given a ride home.

The radiator of the big machine was damaged, the side lamps smashed, and the windshield and top wrecked. The steering wheel was broken from the post.

Both of the injured men were able to be on the street today, but neither could attend to his usual duties. Dr. Custer is associated with Dr. Zimmerman, dentist.

LONDON, Nov. 27.—(Py. mail).—"Cupid's Bureau," at the British War Office, is one of the war's unique and lively institutions.

When love's dart stings the British Tommy, temporarily or otherwise, at one of his many ports of call in France or England, there usually the girl he left behind him. Tommy is both a rapidly migrating and a most forgetful person, according to the officials who administer Cupid's department in the big stone building in Whitehall. His "last" girl is forever writing him letters and sending him packages which he probably receives but doesn't acknowledge. Then the girl writes to "Cupid" to find out what's happened to Tommy. If "Cupid" answers that he is at present somewhere else and that his writing arm is in perfect condition the "last" girl probably knows that his ardor for her has cooled. Oftentimes, however, the "last" girl finds that she's still the "last" and finds her Tommy tucked away in some hospital bed or perhaps among the sterner casualty lists.

The War Office scrupulously observes every request for information. Word is immediately communicated to Tommy's regiment wherever it is to see if he is still in the land of the living.

One girl is looking for two Tommies. An Irish girl pathetically asks only to know how "he's getting along." A Cockney girl informed "Cupid's Bureau" that she hasn't heard "anything" about him for three months and she's ready to do "anything" to find out "something" about him. It's the same old tangled problem every day at "Cupid's Bureau."

CANINE STARS SHOW HUMAN PERVERSITY

Booth Tarkington's Dog Characters In "Seventeen" Have More Temperament Than the Real Stars

THE novelist has an easy time of it. When he decides that his characters ought to do a certain thing he makes them do it with a wave of the pen or a thump of the typewriter key. If he wants two dogs to fight on sight, he proceeds to describe the fight. If he thinks that one of his characters should be passionately fond of apple sauce, he proceeds to picture the rapturous bliss of that person while consuming apple sauce. It is all so very simple for the novelist.

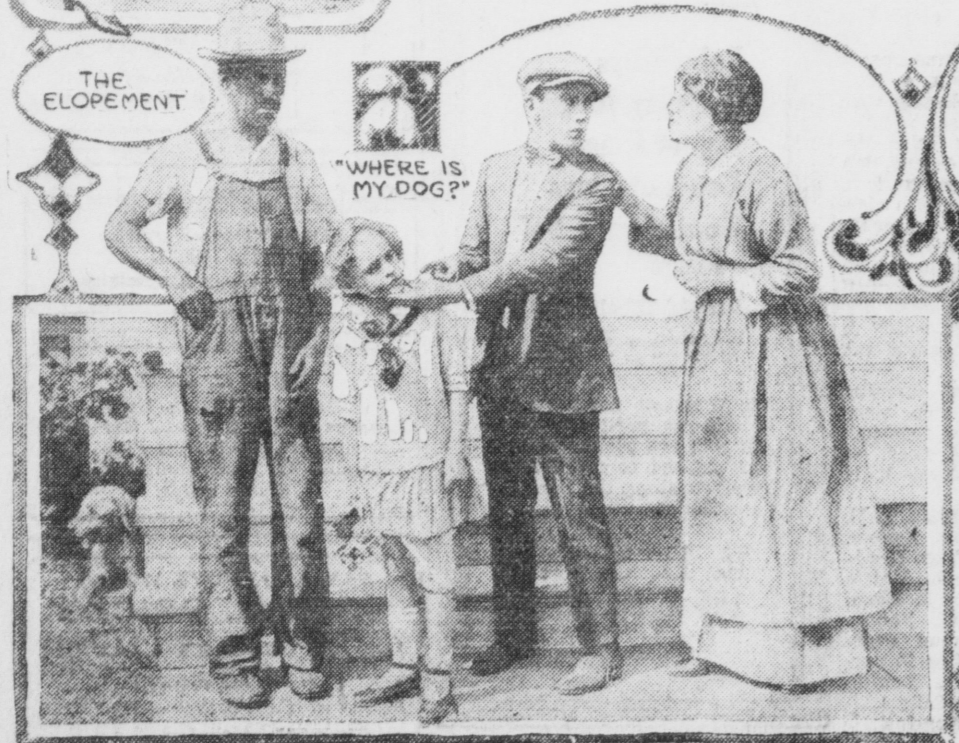

But it is a far different story for the motion picture director. His people have to actually do the things that are prescribed for them or there is no photoplay. When the story demands that two people fondly embrace, they have to do it or the effect of the picture is spoiled and everybody suspects them of having been attempting to deceive the audience in their previous love scenes.

When Booth Tarkington sat down to write his novel "Seventeen" it was a very simple matter for him to picture the first meeting of Clematis, the hound dog that belonged to William Sylvanus Baxter's negro servant, and Floppit, the precious poodle that cuddled in the fair arm of the lovely Lola Pratt. Tarkington just decided that they ought to fight, and he told how they did fight. But when the Famous Players began to make an adaptation of the book for the motion picture screen Robert G. Vignola, who was placed in charge of the production, faced a very trying situation in getting two dogs that fitted the description of Clematis and Floppit and at the same time were inclined to swallow each other whole on sight. All sorts of devices were used by Vignola, assisted by Louise Huff and Jack Pickford, the co-stars of the picture, in order to induce various dogs that seemed to fit the requirements to do battle, but it looked for a time as if the incident would never be seen in this Paramount Picture.

But the strategy which produced the desired result was the very simple expedient of placing the toy dog who was to play Floppit alone in a room and then ushering numerous other dogs into that room one after the other and noting the effect which the little chap had upon them. Many paid no attention to him, others barely sniffed at him, but there finally entered one who bristled, growled and otherwise made his disapproval of the toy dog manifest. He is Clematis.

BLIND PIGGERS GIVEN STIFF SENTENCE BY COURT

Jose Parajas and Wife Found Guilty Yesterday of Selling Booze By Jury

Jose Parajas and wife will pass Christmas in the Orange county jail unless they or their friends can produce $200 in cash.

The pair was convicted yesterday by a jury in City Recorder Heathman's court of maintaining a place where liquors were sold. The city recorder handed them a stiff sentence—$100 each, or fifty days in jail. They went to jail, but efforts will probably be made by their friends to raise the cash.

The Parajas reside at 927 East Walnut street, and a few nights ago their home was raided. The officers found a tunnel under the house, at the end of which was a pit to conceal the liquor they had in store. Several bottles of beer and whiskey were found.

Albert Trijullo, an attorney of San Bernardino, represented the prisoners and City Attorney Scott represented the city.

The jury was composed of J. C. Clark, H. M. Palmer, John Cartwright, George Nay, M. C. Cooper, S. McKeith, J. L. Wiseman, Silas Wright, M. L. Palmer, C. E. Nimmer and R. Best.

SUBSCRIBERS, ATTENTION! Should our carriers overlook you in the delivery of the Register, do not fail to call Pacific 4, or Home 409 and a copy of the paper will be sent you by our messenger. Do not call before 5 p. m., as perhaps the carrier has not reached your place, but call before 7, as all carriers should have their territories finished by that hour. Prompt and efficient service is our motto.

Your gentleman friend will feel the joy of a warm, comfortable bath robe on Christmas morning with the keenest appreciation.

We have them in several colors and in various grades and styles.

POULTRY SHOW'S EXHIBITS ARE PRAISED BY BIG CROWDS

Expert Writes Interestingly Of Rhode Island Reds and Fowls Generally

Today is the last but two of the Orange County Poultry Association's show being held at 395 West Fourth street. Attendance at the show has been splendid and the exhibits have been given high praise. The exhibitors have taken a keen interest and have done everything possible to aid in assuring the show's success. The entries of Greenleaf Brothers and Dr. R. A. Cushman have been freely commented upon as being among the most attractive at the show. The following, written by George W. Masterson of Duarte, gives an insight into the activities of the Rhode Island Red Club of California particularly and poultry activities generally. Masterson is a well-known poultry expert and acted as judge at the present show.

BY GEORGE W. MASTERSON
The monthly meeting of the Rhode Island Red Club of California was held today in the assembly room of the Santa Ana Poultry Show. This club is a very progressive organization and is responsible for the great popularity of the breed in this state. They hold monthly meetings where topics of interest to the breeders are discussed and steps taken to advertise the good qualities of the Rhode Island fowl as a breed and to encourage the novice and the utility poultryman to give them a trial in their breeding operations.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mr. Harold Walthew, and after the election of officers for the ensuing year was attended to the club discussed the best way to make the Red alley at the various shows attractive. It was agreed to decorate the display of this variety at the coming Los Angeles show in a becoming manner and each member agreed to enter an all good birds that they could muster and in this way make this class the largest and one of the most attractive in the show. The committee on the year book reported that they were getting on in fine shape and that they would have all data and articles in the hands of the printer in time to get the pamphlet in the hands of the public at this show. A motion was voted unanimously thanking Messrs. Greenleaf and Cushman for the splendid entertainment and hospitality extended to the Red Breeders and visitors who attended the show, a banquet being given by these fanciers in behalf of the Red Club.

Display Exceptional
The display of Reds in the Santa Ana show is a very exceptional exhibit and speaks well of the ability of the breeders of Orange County to produce good ones. In fact I think this class about the best exhibit in the entire show.

The Red class in the show does not have a corner on all the high quality birds, as I found quite a good many high-class birds of other varieties. The best female and best male in the American class went to a Barred Rock hen and cock, owned by Mr. J. B. Roe of Pasadena. Mr. Randall had a very worthy exhibit of Silver Campines cooped while the display of White Minorcas is above the average. The Cornish cock which carried away the coveted prize of best bird in the English class is a bird that will take some beating to win over the display of some of the White breeds are very light in numbers. The first White Leghorn cockerel is one of high quality and would show well in a bigger class.

Quite a few fancy bantams were cooped while the display of rabbits and pheasants is worth many times the price of admission. Don't neglect visiting the show, and look at the mammoth Capon with his brood of chicks, displayed in the front window. The display of incubators, brooders and poultry feed and supplies go to make this year's exhibit of the Orange County Poultry Association a complete exhibit of a high class and a credit to any community, one that you can well afford to encourage by attending the show.

AT THE COURTHOUSE CALL LAWYERS FOR CONTEMPT

Alleged They Advised Client
to Sell Auto Concerned
In Action

On the ground that an electric automobile has been sold in contempt of court, Attorneys Louis A. Cronk and John F. Poole of Los Angeles have been cited to appear before Judge Thomas tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. Poole has filed an affidavit disavowing any responsibility for the act that resulted in the contempt citation.

Last month Benjamin J. Martin got judgment of $411.25 against James J. Lash upon notes given Martin in payment for an electric automobile. At the time judgment was given a stay of execution of ten days was granted.

Affidavits have been filed by Martin and by his attorney, Alexander P. Nelson of Huntington Beach, in which they allege that they believe that Lash's attorneys advised him to sell the automobile to Joe M. Taylor, and that the machine was transferred to him. The affidavits declare that Taylor is a business associate of the defendant's attorneys, and that the sale was not genuine.

Attorney Poole's affidavit in reply declares emphatically that Taylor is no business associate of his, that he was retained by Cronk to assist in the trial and was not retained by Lash, that he gave no advice concerning the automobile's sale, and he declares that he did nothing that could be construed as contempt of court.

For Administration

Charles G. Johnson has asked for letters of administration on the estate of K. Louise Booth. C. A. Kingston is attorney for the petitioner. The estate consists of real estate at Westminster worth $1500.

Sent to Colorado

This morning Judge West sentenced Edwin Elston to ten years in San Quentin, but withheld the operation of the sentence so that Elston may be sent to Colorado to be put in charge of friends. The testimony showed that Elston, who pleaded guilty to a serious charge, is not normal mentally.

Files New Case

Mrs. Alice Shampang's second attempt to live with Murray Shampang of Anaheim was unsuccessful. The couple married in 1913 and in 1915 suit for divorce was brought upon grounds of desertion and non-support. The defendant did not contest the case, and his default was entered, but the case was never brought to trial, and no decree was entered. While that action was still unsettled, the couple lived together again.

Now comes another complaint for divorce, the former case being dismissed. The new complaint alleges numerous acts of cruelty on the part of Shampang, including his wife's arm severely, cursing her and berating her on the street are detailed. It is declared that on one occasion she was beaten by him with a coat hanger, and was frequently struck in the face. Mrs. Shampang does not want to longer wear the name of Shampang. She asks that she be allowed to resume her maiden name, Alice Goetz.

For Foreclosure

S. Hayden has brought suit against Franz W. Fleischman to foreclose a mortgage of $8000. R. C. Dutton of Anaheim is attorney for the plaintiff.

Judgment Abstract

There has been recorded here an abstract of judgment of $770 entered in Los Angeles in favor of Katherine Heck against C. H. Hoge.

Attorneys Arguing

Today Judge Thomas is hearing arguments by attorneys in the case of Elmer Hayward of Orange against L. F. Thurston of Villa Park, involving nursery stock.

Today an answer was put in by Attorneys Williams & Rutan in the action brought by about eighty property owners to have lands registered under the Torrens system. John Awe in the answer asserts that he holds a mortgage of $800 on property owned by George P. Kelsey, holder of a mortgage of $3250 on land owned by H. E. Carrer, and by Daniel W. Jones, holder of a $6,000 mortgage on land owned by Richard Hannah.

NEGLECTED COLDS GROW WORSE

A cough that racks and irritates the throat may lead to a serious chronic cough, if neglected. The healing pine balsams in Dr. Bell's Pine Tar Honey—Nature's own remedy—will soothe and relieve the irritation, breathing will be easier, and the antiseptic properties will kill the germ which retarded healing. Have it handy for colds, sore throat and chronic bronchial affections. Get a bottle today. Pleasant to take. At all Druggists', 25c.

The Gift of the Discriminate Giver

It is a pertinent fact that the Christmas gift of furniture novelties reflects refinement. We have entered an age of simple decoration—an age in which the adornment of our homes lies chiefly in the utility of their appointments.

So wide is the selection and so reasonable the price of those useful articles of wrought wood and metal, that our novelty aisle will never be found wanting. Candle sticks for the mantel above the hearth, book-blocks for the library table, delicately patterned lamps for the living room and tables of many unique designs will suggest countless other possibilities.

FORMER RESIDENT OF SANTA ANA IS KILLED IN PALO ALTO CRASH

S. W. Charles of Palo Alto, formerly a Santa Ana attorney, was killed Tuesday when his automobile struck a telephone pole at Palo Alto. After graduating from Stanford, Charles, sixteen or seventeen years ago, practiced law in Santa Ana for about a year. For years he has been at Palo Alto.

SANTA ANA BOOSTERS' GREETINGS TO ANAHEIM

Through the courtesy of R. L. Bisby, who furnished the fine automobile with himself as chauffeur, a bunch of Santa Ana boosters was enabled to attend the Board of Trade luncheon at Anaheim today.

Mr. D. M. Linnard of Pasadena was scheduled to address the meeting on the subject of the new advertising organization of Southern California, of which he is the founder and leading spirit. Owing to pressure of business in connection with the opening of his three hotels in Pasadena, and his duties as president of the Pasadena Tournament of Roses Association, Mr. Linnard was unable to keep his appointment. However, he was ably represented by Mr. Edward K. Hoak, manager of the Pacific Coast Department of Doubleday, Page & Company, of New York.

After Mr. Hoak's address, J. P. Baumgartner, R. L. Bisby and J. C. Metzgar responded in turn to calls for "a few remarks."

The meeting was replete with good fellowship, and all were favorably impressed with the new Southern California boosting organization.

In brief, the plan of this organization is to do community advertising in eastern newspapers and periodicals, for the whole of Southern California; to treat every community alike by confining the advertising mainly to general terms, and specifically to bring out the special attractions of each community at the most opportune time, and to the best possible advantage.

Mr. Hoak said that the big banks, railroads, big hotels—in short, nearly all of the big advertisers—had expressed themselves as not only willing, but glad of the opportunity to divert their large advertising funds into this general channel.

In the course of his remarks, Mr. Baumgartner pointed out that, dollar for dollar, Southern California could get very much better results from advertising in eastern newspapers and periodicals than it could in issuing pamphlets and special editions of local publications. He also expressed the opinion that the railroads, banks and hotels would get better rates for their money if expended through a central and general organization than if expended individually; especially as the advertising would be from a community and, to that extent, a disinterested standpoint, rather than from an individual and selfish standpoint.

Mr. Bisby preached very effectively the gospel of co-operation, and Mr. Metzgar presented Santa Ana's greetings and cordial invitation to the Anaheim boosters to come over and mix with us.

Altogether the occasion was very delightful and helpful.

IN THE JUSTICE COURT BAILS FORFEITED; MEN ARE SENT FOR

Lamb and Sanchez, Charged With Blind Pigging At Alamitos, Sought

Charles Lamb and A. Sanchez may be locked up before dark. Several months ago Sheriff Jackson arrested them on charges of liquor selling at a poolroom at Los Alamitos. Lamb gave $300 bail and Sanchez $150, and through a Los Angeles attorney continuance after continuance brought delays. On the last continuance the defendants failed to appear. Today Justice Cox declared their bail forfeited, and Sheriff Jackson sent deputies out after the two men.

AMUSEMENTS OF CHILDREN ARE DISCUSSED

Says One, Center at Home, Stop Parties and Movies In School Week

Says Another, Better Have Too Much Entertainment Than Not Enough

"Children's Amusements" was the subject of a discussion at the meeting of the Intermediate Parent-Teacher Association last night, and in the discussion two different viewpoints were presented, one by C. D. Chamberlain, instructor in the high school, and the other by J. F. Adams, member of the Santa Ana Bulletin staff.

Adams favored establishing amusements and lots of them, and Chamberlain favored centering amusements around the home with special efforts being made to prevent the diversion of the child's mind from his school work. Adams favored having too many amusements rather than not enough, while Chamberlain favored a strict supervision of amusements if children are to escape unscathed.

About 120, including fathers of students, were present at the gathering last night, the program for which was in charge of Miss Verna Peterson, Mrs. G. A. Barrows, president of the association, presided. A solo was given by Maurice Phillips. Refreshments were served.

Crave for Diversion
"Man is a social being," declared Chamberlain, "and young and old alike demand diversion. A game of chess may be the most popular diversion for the older couple, yet something more active might be needed by the children. There was a time when children were punished for playing. Now we endeavor to use that instinct in working out the education of the child."

"My subject deals with those diversions outside of school that interfere with study and the progress of the child in school."

"There are three classes of diversions. One is the vicious class, including gambling in its various forms, here in Santa Ana the opportunity for indulgence in this form of amusement is not great."

"Then there are the questionable amusements, such as cards, dances, hayrides, auto rides, and beach parties. WHEN NOT CHAPERONED, in themselves these amusements may not be harmful, and it is the duty of parents to see to it that those amusements are not harmful."

"Then there are the praiseworthy amusements. Pre-eminent is the mov-

O. D. BLEAKLEY, newly elected member of the House of Representatives from Franklin, Pa., found a new way to reach Washington when he rode there in an aeroplane. He said he is going to learn how to drive it, and will as a member of the house make his trips to and from his home in the air. The machine was handled by Sergeant William C. Ocker, of the Aviation Corps of the United States Army. Mr. Bleakley's invitation to President Wilson to take a flight has not been accepted.

ing picture show. Most of the pictures that we see are not good for children. They are of exciting nature, and too frequently give false notions of life. Frequently we find suggestions of vice, and there is a tendency to the displaying of women in the nude or in scanty apparel that is not for the best in the development of youthful ideas.

"The moving pictures are here to stay, and in the end may be developed into great usefulness."

Not in School Week
"My principal argument from the standpoint of the schools is that these amusements, even though harmless in themselves, ought not to be indulged in during the school week. They should come after Friday adjournment of school. A party given during the week diverts the child's mind. If children are to go to the movies, they ought not to be allowed to go at all during the school week, and preferably not at all at night."

"Parents should recognize that their children need amusement. The duty of parents should cause them to study the home amusements that please their children most, and join with their children in home amusements. The outlet for the craving for good times should be guarded and directed by the parents."

"We are convinced that the average child is more in need of amusement than parents," said J. F. Adams. We find that many parents who deem it necessary to engage in a constant round of entertainment seem to forget that their children would enjoy a reasonable amount of recreation and as all work and no play makes Jack a dull boy, the recreation would be beneficial rather than detrimental."

For Amusement
"Parents should try to back down the road to yesterday and get their child's viewpoint by remembering their own youthful days. In childhood the capacity for enjoyment is keener and disappointments are tragedies that linger long in the memory. If these things are kept in mind parents would realize that boys or girls who are allowed an abundance of amusement are better fitted for school work, are healthier and happier than the ones who between the hours of closing and opening school are not allowed out of their mothers' visions. We believe that the child whose time aside from the home work and school work is spent in wholesome amusement is better fitted to cope with life's problems both from a moral and a business standpoint and that their viewpoint will be more rational than that of the crowded child."

"There are extremes, of course, but there is no question in my mind but that too much amusement of the right sort is better for the child than not enough."

"The question of amusement for children is one of recent years. It is not one that troubled our forefathers. After they conceded the point that ordinary amusements were not deadly sins children were left to work out their own amusements or to share the things that entertained their elders."

"The children's party seems to be a form of amusement that has waned and in Santa Ana at the present time does not occur often enough to require much attention from the parents. The boy scout movement has successfully withstood the little criticism that has been directed against it and is now thoroughly established and furnishes healthy amusement for a small per cent of Santa Ana boys."

"The Campfire girls organization does the same work for a small per cent of the girls but the greater number of children belong to neither organization and the matter of amusement simmers down to the street, the front and back yard and the picture theater."

"Santa Ana needs a well equipped and supervised play ground and a plunge where a child may go free or for a small sum and a moving picture theater controlled by parents and friends who have the child's welfare at heart. Surely we must concede that a little too much of these greatly needed amusements would be better than the utter absence of them."

Get Right Kind
"Children will be children if we let them. They like the sensational movie that they but half understand if no other kind is offered them. They will play in the street and enjoy it, but a supervised play ground would be more enjoyable and better for them. They will swim in the sink holes of the creeks but a plunge would be safer and cleaner. The plunge and the play ground would furnish means for the development of the child physically and the properly conducted theater would help them educationally and morally."

"The right sort of pictures stimulate the imagination, inspire constructive thinking and furnish amusement."

"The child who must furnish his own amusement may at times furnish too much for himself and the neighbors. Tom Sawyer might be cited as an example of this sort but we are fond of him because he had too much amusement and not because he had not enough."

"The child with no amusements is apt to be self-conscious and depressed and the amused child will generally prove to be well balanced and sunny natured. Get into an occasional argument with your child on the amusement question and you will be surprised at the logical argument he can advance at a moment's notice."

"In speaking of the amusement question we must bear in mind the amusements for the majority of Santa Ana's boys and girls. We can not judge all by the conditions of a few, the favored few whose parents plan for them, whose plays are carefully supervised at home, who are taken to the beaches in the summer. The majority we must consider are the youngsters who are given a nickel or dime and who are left to see plays for these future citizens a little too much amusement of the right sort is certainly to be preferred than too little. At the end of the school year 3500 of Santa Ana's children will be left with an abundance of time on their hands for a period of three months. Perhaps less than 20 per cent will be employed at work. It would be impossible to conceive of a condition of too much amusement of the proper sort at this time. With nothing to do or the wrong thing to do the following nine months of school discipline will in a great many cases be an all too short period in which to correct the mischief done."

ANAHEIM MAY GET FUND FOR FACTORY USES

Matter Is Discussed At Annual Meeting of the Board of Trade

ANAHEIM, Dec. 14.—The election of officers for the Board of Trade resulted in the choice of F. A. Backs, Jr., president; F. C. Krause, vice-president; J. Cassou, treasurer, and W. Jackson, Geo. Bishop, C. R. Prince, Chas. Eygabroad and H. P. Noll, board of directors.

The new officers are men who have taken active interest, with hardly an exception, in the work of the Board of Trade in the past year and will be excellent men to have in charge of the helm for the next year.

The question of raising a fund for the assistance of desirable manufacturers was up again and it was the opinion of those present that a fund be raised for handling propositions that prove meritorious.

Along the line of literature for the advertising of this part of the valley in particular, as well as the whole of Orange County, it was decided to get out a pamphlet at the earliest possible moment. The new president stated that he would announce his committee on advertising as soon as possible and have things rolling at once. Some discussion took place in regard to the issuing of booklets on several of the most important industries or one to cover all of them. It was decided to have one booklet for all.

Splendid Address Given At First Christian Church Meeting By L. A. West

An interesting and able address was given to the men of the First Christian church last night by District Attorney L. A. West. The address followed one of the dinners given frequently for the men of the church and followed two pleasing piano solos by Elizabeth Wright, daughter of the pastor, Rev. Paul E. Wright, and two beautiful vocal solos by Miss LaRue Fippis.

In his address, West dealt briefly in an outline of the development of mankind through the stages of savagery and barbarism to civilization.

"The permanency of our civilization," declared West, "centers in the sanctity of the home. Divorce is a result and not a cause. Divorce results from the breaking down of ideals of sanctity of the home. The downfall of Rome and the downfall of Greece emphasize that without due regard for the ties of home life a nation cannot long exist."

"The remedy? There is a remedy, and that remedy is our Saviour. Through Christ the home life of the nation can be made strong, and the undermining of our civilization can be stopped."

EAT WITHOUT FEAR OF INDIGESTION OR SOUR, ACID STOMACH

Take a Glass of Salts to Flush Kidneys if Bladder Bothers You

—Eating meat regularly eventually produces kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well-known authority, because the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish; clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus avoiding serious kidney disease.—Advertisement.

"Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which is merely the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients. Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully, besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite.
It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.—Advertisement.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA TYPISTS ARE AIDED BY 'RAG' DITTIES

GLENDALE, Dec. 14.—Typing butchers' bills to the tune of "Pretty Baby" is the latest in the commercial department of the Glendale High School, where the students are incited to more speed to the music of a phonograph.

The scheme has been found not only to speed up the amateur stenographers, but it relieves the brain fatigue which formerly resulted from the long hours and the close work.

The students have adopted the new system with great enthusiasm, although many admit that it is a bit confusing at first to type "This is the time for all good men to come to the aid of the party" when the phonograph is merely grinding out "Where did Robinson Crusoe go with Friday on Saturday night?" but when the first newness wears off the work goes at a rapid clip.

RAILWAY TO RUN JITNEYS
SANTA BARBARA, Dec. 14.—The Santa Barbara and Suburban Railway Company was granted a permit
by the city council to operate jitneys over one route applied for. More applications will later be made. The action of the council opens competition between the company and various individuals who are operating motor busses in this city. The company will arrange for transfers between street cars and jitneys.

TO OUST POWER COMPANY
PASADENA, Dec. 14.—Pasadena has discovered that the Pacific Light and Power Company is doing business within the city limits. Managers C.
W. Koerner of the municipal lighting department at once petitioned the City Commission to have the corporation ejected. The commission indicated that it would act at once. City Attorney Munger was asked to give the board a legal opinion today.

The Pacific Light and Power Company has no franchise to operate in Pasadena. Manager Koerner believes that it would be impossible for the corporation to obtain a franchise.

HEINK TO SING
SAN DIEGO, Dec. 14.—When the lights are turned out for the last time at the Panama-California International exposition at midnight of New Year's Day, a farewell will be sung by Schumann Heink, San Diego's own singer. "Auld Lang Syne" will be the selection sung by the famous diva, who has refused to accept several engagements in order that she may sing the farewell song. "I reopened the exposition this year and I intend to sing the closing song," says Mme.

Schumann Heink. Throughout the two years of the exposition the famous singer has given free concerts and assisted in other ways to make the fair a success in the city which she has chosen for her home.

O. K. "DRY" PETITIONS
REDONDO BEACH, Dec. 14.—The City Council approved the petitions of the dry federation for the submission to the voters of Redondo Beach the question of closing the saloons. The particular question comes up in two forms—absolute prohibition and the licensing of wholesale houses.

The prohibitionists feel encouraged for the reason that the vote at the general election resulted in a majority of the votes going for the dries. The date for the election was fixed for January 26, 1917.

ARGENTINE WILL NOT LEND ENGLAND MONEY

BUENOS AIRES, Dec. 14.—A London newspaper having suggested that maybe the allies could borrow some money in Argentina, English periodicals published here today say there is not the ghost of a chance of such a thing.

The Buenos Aires Standard endorses an estimate that more than 373,685,390 pounds, or about $1,868, 000,000, in English money is invested in the republic, adding that the Argentines need more for development purposes and would be borrowing if it were not so "tight" that it is not to be had.

"Of course," the Standard admits,
"England's Argentine bonds might be transferred to American purchasers but that is not precisely what our London contemporary wants."

Have a Clear
Complexion and Clean Skin

There is one sure, safe way to avoid blotchy, pimply skin. A good or bad complexion comes from within. If you want a clear complexion, a clean skin—rosy cheeks and good health, your blood must be pure and the poisonous matter must be carried off.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets assist nature to remove all poisonous matter in the system. They act on the liver and bowels like calomel yet have no dangerous after-effects. They are reliable—safe and cannot harm—are used by women folks everywhere.

Constipation is nearly always the cause of all ailments of women. The intestines must be made to do their work as nature intended—in a normal way.

Have color in your cheeks. Take one or two tablets nightly and note the pleasing results. All druggists—10c and 25c.

U. S. SALESMAN TRIED TO SELL ITALY'S QUEEN WOODEN LEG

Drummer, Mistaking Sovereign For Red Cross Nurse, Gets "In Bad"

BY JOHN H. HEARLY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
ROME, Nov. 15 (By mail).—How an American salesman tried to sell a wooden leg to the Queen of Italy under the impression that she was a Red Cross nurse was told today for the first time.

C. C. Swain, a breezy drummer for an artificial limb maker of Washington, D. C., had been doing his best to place an order with the hospital committee representing the Italian government. Just as he was on the verge of giving the gentlemen up as bad prospects in came a most charming black-eyed nurse, and Charlie, taking heart, started all over again for her benefit.

"It's all a question of getting used to it," said Swain. "See, I can spin around on mine like a top!" Swain suited the action to the word. For Swain's best sample was his own left leg.

The Red Cross nurse was intensely interested. Swain unwound every inch of his line of talk. Over the mysterious frowns and restlessness of the committeemen he gave her much unsolicited information. He told her of his climb to the skyscraping dome of St. Peter's. If she didn't believe it, she could ask the guide who had seen his performance and had received his card.

Afterward, he caught a chair and danced the "grizzly bear," gliding gradually into a "hesitation." He ended his dancing spree with a bit of the "tango." Apparently amazed and amused at his stunts, the black-eyed nurse made her thanks and disappeared.

The American salesman, thereupon, turned again to the committee. He met a thundering storm of wrath. "Fool! Fool!" roared the chorus of voices. "Didn't you know that was Her Majesty Elena, Queen of Italy?" "Holy smoke!" sighed Swain. "To think I had a golden opportunity and used it like a nickel-plated one."

FOOTHILL VALENCIA ASSOCIATION HAS ANNUAL ELECTION

ORANGE, Dec. 14.—With total shipments of 165 carloads of fruit during the last year, the Foothill Valencia Association, netted to the growers $146,643.91, according to report of Manager J. D. Spennetta read at the annual meeting of the association.

About 85 per cent of the shipments were Valentinas.

The report showed the association in the very best of financial condition. Established only four years, the association now has a surplus of about $500 above all indebtedness.

It is estimated that next year's crop will be about 225 cars. At the annual election of officers the following were named directors for the coming year: Henry Terry, George L. Bates, E. Buta, G. W. Suruck, George Peterson, G. E. Schriver and P. L. Courtney.

At the organization of the board following the meeting Henry Terry was made president, G. L. Bates, vice president, and J. D. Spennetta, reappointed secretary and manager.

The meeting was well attended by growers and members of their families and at noon lunch was served in the dining room of the hall.

In the afternoon several addresses were heard, among the speakers being A. Gregory, general manager of the Mutual Orange Distributors, and W. C. Hargrove. Gregory spoke on market conditions in general. Hargrove discussed the citrus canker, which has become such a scourge in Florida, and strongly urged against the importation of citrus stock from that section because of the danger of spread here.
